BUFFALO, Sept. 9 .- The bulletin issued from the President's bedside at 9.20 o'clock this morning raised still higher the hopes of those who watched his condition and acted : a tonic on Mrs. Mcl'inley, whose condition has appreciably improved.

The most significant declaration of the physicians, and one which in a measure dissipates an ever-threater, his indomitable will and his fine ing danger from blood poisoning or courage are the factors counted on to peritonitis, was embraced in these words: "Untoward incidents are less likely to occur."

The President has grown more cheerful in spirit, and the whole atmosphere of the Milburn house is one of extreme hopefulness.

Aside from the pathological condition of the case, the circumstances today are peculiarly favorable for the patient. It is an ideal September day. with bracing air, moderate temperature, and a light breeze blowing from the south, and just sufficient to stir the flag draped ever the entrance to the Milburn House.

The sun shines most of the time with now and then the shadows of light, fleecy clouds. The physicians were quick to note the external conto the comfort of the patient and final recovery.' gave assurance gainst the depression of extreme heat, or inclement weather.

Worst Is Over.

The official bulletins from the physicians as well as the authoritative statements of those in most intimate relation with the Presidential household give certainty to the feeling that the worst phases of the crisis are about over.

The doctors gave the cheering information, free from all technicalities of science, that the President's condition was becoming more and more satisfactory and that untoward complications were becoming less likely.

Besides their official signed utterances, the doctors gave individual expressions reinforcing the buoyant and confident tone. They made known, too, that the President's mind was clear, his mental faculties as vigor-

These positive assurances gave to the members of the Cabinet and to the President a feeling of confidence little short of absolute certainty that the President was now well on the way to recovery. Without exception those who came from the Milburn house expressed this same confident
